

Laurent Mallet, PhD

Associate Vice President

Head of Analytical Research & Development,
Sanofi Pasteur, France
Board Member

Dr. Laurent Mallet obtained his Master Degree of Science in Biochemistry from Claude Bernard Lyon University in France. He completed his PhD work in Virology and Molecular Biology under the co-direction of Pr Michèle Aymard (National Reference Center for Enterovirus, Lyon, France) and Dr. François Pelloquin (Sanofi Pasteur, formerly Pasteur Mérieux Connaught). He obtained his PhD in 1996. After several positions within Sanofi Pasteur in France and in Canada, he is currently Head of Analytical R&D Europe.

He is also a member of several expert committees, EDQM Group 15 "Human vaccines and sera" at European Pharmacopoeia and stakeholder at the French Pharmacopoeia Committee "Biological Products and Innovative Therapies". Recently, he has been involved in several WHO working groups on vaccines including the WHO Study Group on Cell Substrates.

