Eriko Terao is a scientific project coordinator at the European Directorate for the Quality of Medicines & HealthCare (EDQM, Council of Europe, Strasbourg, France) since 2007. She is specifically in charge of collaborative studies of the Biological Standardisation Programme (BSP) of the Council of Europe and the European Union Commission. The portfolio of her projects covers validation of new and alternative methods - including 3R methods for the replacement of animal use in the quality control testing of biological products - as well as calibration of official reference standards for the European Pharmacopoeia (Ph. Eur.). Prior to joining the Council of Europe, she received a PhD in Biological Sciences from the University of Louvain (UCL, Belgium) and was a teacher-researcher and researcher in neurosciences (academic and corporate) in Belgium, UK and France.
